Volunteering with Aquarius

There are many ways in which volunteers support the services we deliver and we aim to fit the person's experience, knowledge and skills to the different types of volunteer roles we have.

These roles range from:

Administrative: helping with reception and general admin duties.

Event/Activities: supporting the delivery of activity groups, like art, gardening, walking, music and helping out at community events aimed at informing the public of the impacts of alcohol, drugs and gambling.

Community Champions: people from local communities providing alcohol information and supporting people to get help from services.

Service: in a wide variety of ways helping engage clients in the service and providing support to clients and families.

Aquarius values the time and commitment volunteers give to us, and in return we provide:

Induction into the role

Relevant training for the role

An opportunity to develop knowledge and skills

Experience in the substance misuse and gambling field

Support from staff

Supervision

Being part of the team

Reimbursement of agreed expenses

If you want to spend some free time constructively helping us then we would really like to hear from you.
